Appendix B – Ad Hoc Committee Report on Summer Profitability

Report from Ad Hoc Committee on Summer Profit

The Faculty Senate ad hoc committee formed to determine AASU's profit or loss for the summer session attempted to gather the relevant information from the Deans but were subsequently told by most of them that the data would not be forthcoming. At that point, we then contacted department heads to find the individual numbers for profit or loss by department. Some department heads were unwilling and/or unable to provide this data, but 15 of the 20 departments did report profit information for 2011. We note that no department for which we received or computed data reported a loss.

We received and/or computed profit numbers of $416,819 for the College of Liberal Arts and $640,000 for the College of Health Professions. The somewhat informal number for the College of Science and Technology was $500,000. Finally, as no numbers were received from the College of Education, the committee utilized data on education courses from SHIP to determine the number of credit hours taught during Summer 2011. Making the most conservative estimate possible, we used $120/credit hour (guaranteed tuition plan – year 2) for undergraduate courses and $180/hour for graduate courses. Our calculations yielded revenue of $382,500. Salary information for the College of Education was determined by multiplying faculty salary data available at the library (from before the recent effort to rectify salary inversions across the university) by 3% per credit hour taught. As there was no salary information available for several instructors, the committee used data found at open.georgia.gov for the missing instructors. These numbers are imprecise, as the latest data available at that site are for 2010, and the amounts found there may or may not correlate well with whatever salaries those instructors received for the summer term of 2011. Nevertheless, the committee feels that this estimate is certainly not unreasonable. We calculated salary expenses of $181,764 for faculty for whom information was available at the library. Multiplying that by 1.36 yields $247,200.

Working again to find numbers for the College of Education, we estimated total salary for other instructors was $27,500, or $37,400 when 36% overhead is included. According to these numbers, the College of Education made a profit of at least $97,900. While these numbers do not include income reduction due to TAP, the 62+ program, or financially delinquent students, they also do not include extra tuition paid by out of state students or indeed any students not in year two of the guaranteed tuition plan. Additionally, it is assumed that faculty were paid for all credit hours found on SHIP, when in fact they are not paid for certain courses such as independent study, directed reading, research, etc.

The total conservative profit estimate for all four colleges is then $1.65 million. This assumes that the 36% figure given to calculate costs does indeed cover all costs above that of faculty salaries. The committee also notes that this number does not include the hundreds of dollars in fees paid by each student to the university itself (more about this forthcoming). By any reasonable measure, we can conclude that there was significant profit made in the summer 2011 session. As to the question of profit in excess of the profit from summer 2010, the committee rejects the notion that profit and loss have any meaning other than that which has been understood by businesses, governments, and the general public throughout history: when expenses exceed revenue, there is a loss; if revenue exceeds expenses, there is a profit. For that reason, and the fact that assembling the information for the most recent summer session (absent cooperation from all departments) was an arduous task itself, we present no data from summer 2010.

When discussing summer revenue, also relevant to the discussion is the amount of money that is brought into the university by way of the fees students pay. It should be noted that these fees are a huge detriment to students wishing to enroll in a single course during summer, as the amount paid is the same regardless of the credit hours enrolled. Based on the total enrollment number (3645 students) provided by the Office of Institutional Research on May 25, 2011, the following amounts of revenue were estimated for various entities within the university:

Student Affairs*	$747,225
Athletics	$499,365
Mandatory Fee	$273,375
Technology Fee	$175,315

*This includes Student Center Fee, Student Access ID Fee, Health Fee, Activity Fee, Recreation Fee

Even if the true enrollment fluctuated slightly, it is safe to conclude that approximately $1.7 million was brought into the university during the summer and that this amount should also be part of the discussion of squeezing academic units to ensure each class/department raises funds equal to 1.36 multiplied by total faculty salary. Again, these fees are a huge factor when students are deciding whether to enroll in summer courses; last summer, the fees a student paid (except $75 mandatory fee) were equal to 91% ($389/$429) of the general undergraduate rate. There are many implications relative to summer profit that should be discussed about this fee to tuition ratio, such as the natural question of whether AASU's primary priority truly is academics when the balance of non-academic costs to tuition are nearly equal, but these are beyond the scope of this task force.

Regardless, the burden of this ratio is currently being shouldered by the academic departments and faculty, and consequently has impact on student progression and retention as the scheduling of summer courses needs to contend with this reality as well. Finally, based upon $1.7 million being made last summer by non-tuition revenue, the question is raised about where all of this extra revenue is going at a time when less and less is available to support the primary (academic) mission of the university.

We would go further and point out that, while the ideas of transparency and accountability have received a great deal of attention on AASU's campus of late, they are perhaps most conspicuous by their absence. After requests at the first two senate meetings for information about this profit sharing (an idea first proposed by the administration itself), the faculty senate was told that "by or before the next senate meeting", these numbers would be provided. In fact, the upper administration was not present for the third senate meeting and has made no effort to provide these numbers through any other official channel. While precise determination of these numbers to the penny may in fact take some effort, it is hard to believe that an enterprise that is unable to calculate its profit or loss for one quarter by some point during the next has a particularly bright future.

When this committee, at the direction of the faculty senate, first attempted to collect this information from the deans, we were told by some that communication with them about this matter had been blocked from above. While the owner of a sole proprietorship may well be able to rebuff requests for financial information, we should all be mindful of the fact that AASU is a public institution; the numbers sought by the senate are not confidential, nor would they be shielded from a Freedom of Information Act request if brought by any citizen. Rarely does a climate of secrecy engender trust, and it has no place at institutions either public or educational.

The committee notes that the mandate to make a profit in summer has limited or in some cases eliminated the upper division courses offered in the summer due to expected low enrollments; the need to make a profit has consequences for student progression towards a degree as well as (ultimately) retention rates. We believe that summer presents an opportunity for the students, faculty, and university to all benefit. For this to happen, department chairs need to know basic information such as the minimum profit needed to see funds remitted to their department as well as some formula for the size of that payment as a function of departmental profit. If provided with that schedule, the chairs (in consultation with their faculty) can make an informed decision as to the balance between upper division and core courses for the summer. The goalposts need to be clearly marked and immobile.

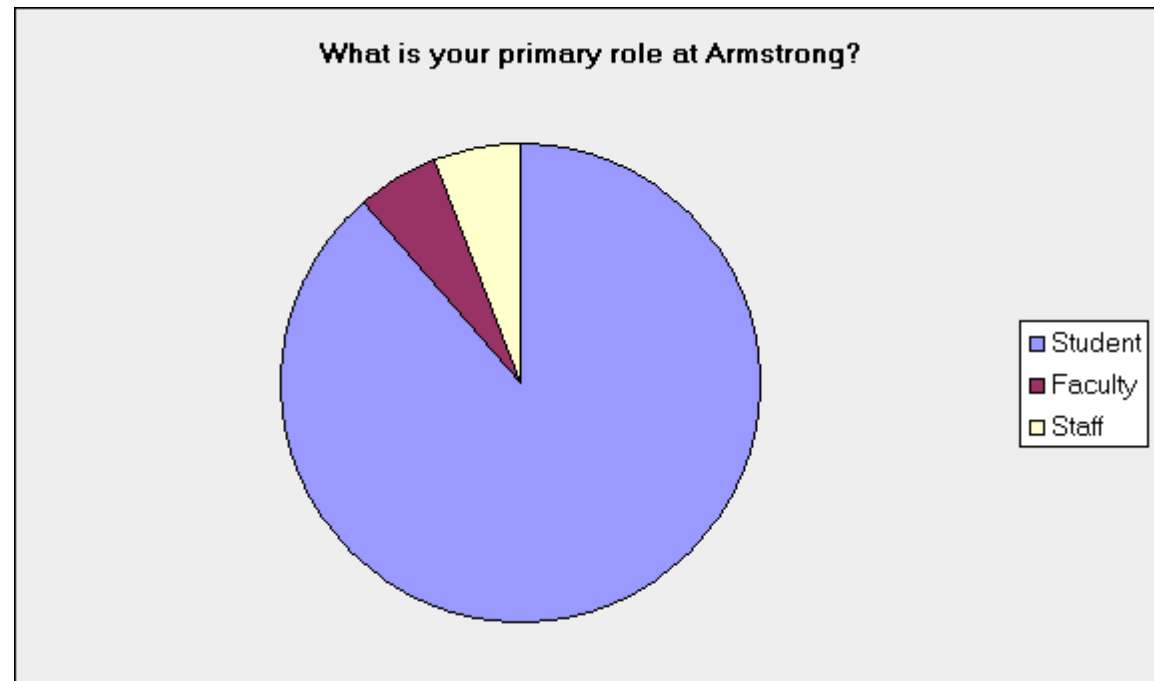

When considering the value of summer teaching, all of us at AASU must ask the fundamental question: if there were no summer courses, would the university remain solvent in the academic year? What would the loss be if all departments were discouraged from participating in summer instruction? If, as has been suggested, all department chairs were to cap course enrollments at a level that would provide for 1.36 times the faculty salary, would the university continue to function?

Respectfully submitted this sixteenth day of November 2011,

Armstrong Tobacco Control Task Force
Recommendations for Campus Policy Revision
November 17, 2011

BACKGROUND

As of July 1, 2011, more than 500 college campuses across the country have enacted 100% smoke-free or tobacco-free policies, with the trend steadily increasing for the past few years. During the summer of 2011, the Armstrong Faculty Senate charged a small workgroup to explore the possibility of revising Armstrong's tobacco policy to strengthen tobacco control on the local campus. The Armstrong Tobacco Control Task Force (TCTF) convened for the first time in August, 2011, with support from the Student Government Association, Staff Advisory Council, and Armstrong administration. Membership included representation from students, faculty, staff, and local community partners (roster included at end of report).

CURRENT CAMPUS POLICY

The Georgia Smokefree Act of 2005 prohibits smoking in all enclosed facilities owned, leased or operated by an agency of the State of Georgia, including all enclosed facilities owned, leased or operated by the institutions of the University System of Georgia. This includes private offices. There are no exceptions allowed on any AASU facilities.

In addition to the overall campus policy, several areas on campus have a more restrictive tobacco policy:

- Armstrong Center – designated as a smoke-free facility, with no smoking permitted within 12 feet of the building entrance/exits.
- Campus Housing – smoking not permitted within the residential community buildings or within 100 feet of the building entrances/exits.
- Campus Security – has a policy in place stipulating fees for smoking policy violations.

ELECTRONIC SURVEY

President Linda Bleicken requested that the TCTF solicit input from all campus constituents to allow the opportunity for all voices to be heard during an initial phase of data collection. An electronic survey was fielded from September 19 -30 for this purpose. Students, faculty, and staff were asked to provide their opinion about Armstrong's current campus tobacco policy.

The survey was completed by 1,118 students, 70 faculty, and 75 staff, with 72% self-identified as not using tobacco products at all, 12% being occasional users of tobacco, and 16% using tobacco on a regular basis. Among survey respondents, there were 251 reported health conditions exacerbated by exposure to tobacco products, including 176 cases of asthma, 18 cases of chronic bronchitis, 7 cases of oral cancer, 4 cases of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, 3 cases of emphysema, and 30 other respiratory diseases. 75% reported being exposed to second-hand smoke on campus.

Three out of every four respondents supported campus tobacco policy revision, with 449 (36%) in favor of promoting a smoke-free campus with designated smoking areas, 362 (29%) in favor of promoting a 100% tobacco-free campus, and 118 (10%) in favor of a smoke-free campus without designated smoking areas. The remaining 25% supported maintaining the existing policy with no change.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES/EVENTS

Simultaneous activities were planned for September, October, and November to raise awareness about tobacco use, related health consequences, and the campus tobacco control initiative. Events included participation in the following:

- Armstrong Health and Wellness Fair booth – October 5, 2011
- Armstrong Day – October 19, 2011
- Treasure Savannah – October 22, 2011
- Campus Cigarette Butt Pick-Up – November 11-14, 2011
- Great American Smokeout – November 17, 2011

LETTERS OF SUPPORT

In addition to community service events and activities, letters of support were solicited from internal groups such as campus departments and organizations, as well as from external groups within the community. Internal supporters of the initiative included the following:

- Faculty Senate
- Student Government Association
- Staff Advisory Council
- Organizations President's Council
- Graduate Student Coordinating Council
- National Student Speech Language Hearing Association
- AASU IHI Student Chapter
- Health Sciences Department
- Health Sciences Student Association
- Student Affairs
- Athletics Department
- Physical Therapy Club
- Physical Therapy Department
- Medical Laboratory Sciences Club
- AASU Wesley Fellowship

External supporters of the initiative included the following:

- Office the Mayor, City of Savannah

- District Health Director, Coastal Health District
- Administrator, Chatham County Health Department
- St. Joseph's Hospital
- D1 Sports Training and Therapy of Savannah
- Nancy N. and J.C. Lewis Cancer & Research Pavilion, Radiation Oncology Department
- American Lung Association in Georgia
- Independent Mary Kay Beauty Consultant

TASK FORCE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR CONSIDERATION

As a result of the activities described above, the Armstrong TCTF presents the following options for President Bleicken to consider with regard to tobacco policy revision:

Option #1

Revise the existing tobacco policy to designate the Armstrong campus as a smoke-free environment with designated smoking areas.

- Supports input from the majority of campus constituents (449 out of 1,241, or 36%) who participated in the electronic survey.
- Supports the City of Savannah Smoke-Free Air Ordinance of 2010 (an ordinance to restrict smoking in places of public accommodation, including all enclosed public places within the City of Savannah, as well as smoking in outdoor areas within 10 feet or a reasonable distance outside entrances, operable windows, and ventilation systems of enclosed areas where smoking is prohibited).
- Actions could include, but not be limited to, policy revision, identification of designated smoking areas, relocation of ashtrays away from building entrances, posting signage to communicate policy; utilization of Armstrong Marketing support for ongoing communication to campus community.
- Would require budgetary consideration for creation of designated smoking areas.

Option #2

Revise the existing tobacco policy to designate the Armstrong campus as a 100% tobacco-free environment.

- Supports input from 362 of 1,241 (29%) campus constituents who participated in the electronic survey.
- Supports the City of Savannah Smoke-Free Air Ordinance of 2010, with more restrictive stipulations so as not to permit any tobacco use on campus.
- Actions could include, but not be limited to, policy revision, removal of ashtrays, posting signage to communicate policy; utilization of Armstrong Marketing support for ongoing communication to campus community.

Option #3

No change to the existing policy.

- Supports input from 312 of 1,241 (25%) campus constituents who participated in the electronic survey.
- Abide by the City of Savannah Smoke-Free Air Ordinance of 2010, thus supporting input from additional 118 of 1,241 (10%) campus constituents who participated in the electronic survey who were in favor of a smoke-free campus without specific designated smoking areas.
- Least costly of the three options (the initiative currently has no budget allowances).
- Actions could include, but not be limited to, relocation of ashtrays away from building entrances, posting signage to communicate the city ordinance; utilization of Armstrong Marketing support for ongoing communication to campus community.

A final consideration is the issue of enforcement. Depending upon which option is selected, the TCTF will collaborate with campus security/enforcement to devise a standard action plan. It is recommended that enforcement be educational versus punitive in nature.
