ITEMS

I. College of Education

A. Adolescent and Adult Education

1. Modify the following degree title:

Master of Education in Adult Education and ~~Community Leadership~~ Human Resource Development

Rationale: the configuration of the present degree has a set core of courses and then broke out into three sub groups; Human Resources, Literacy Education and Instructional Technology. The present numbers in this degree do not allow for the continued three sub track program. The numbers became too small to offer courses in each sub group area. The program decided to specialize in one area and structure the degree around this main area of emphasis in the strongest of the three sub groups.

Effective Term: Fall 2014

2. Modify the following course:

ADED 7100 HISTORY AND THEORY OF LITERACY AND ADULT EDUCATION

3-0-3

~~Introduction to the fundamental nature, function and scope of adult education, including an overview of the historical, sociological and political forces affecting the field. Program providers, relations with parent organizations, societal influences and awareness of resources will be examined.~~ Introduction to the fundamental nature, function and scope of adult education and its impact on the field of literacy, including an overview of the historical, sociological and political forces affecting the field. Particular attention is paid to how these societal forces directly impact the rate and level of literacy throughout the world. Program providers, relations with parent organizations, societal influences and awareness of resources will be examined.

Rationale: With the restructuring of the degree, the literacy track is being removed from the POS and some of its information will be addressed into this course. This information infusion into the present course will address the base requirements of literacy information for this degree.

Effective Term: Fall 2014

3. Modify the following course:

Students will conduct a needs-based assessment of community/university needs and use that research to work in small groups to complete a state or federal grant proposal. They will experience the peer review process both as applicant and reviewer. This course will cover a variety of funding sources and a range of funding types to provide students with an information base for preparing future grant applications.

Rationale: To reflect the stronger grant writing content currently being taught in this class, the new course title will reflect this stronger emphasis.
