Minutes: September 4, 2012, 2:30 p.m.

PRESENT: Joey Crosby (Chair), Becky da Cruz (Vice Chair), Kathleen Fabrikant, Mark Finlay, Chris Hendricks, John Hobe, Anne Katz, Robert Loyd, Jean Neils-Strunjas, Bryan Riemann, Daniel Skidmore-Hess, Sandy Streater, Pat Thomas, Anne Thompson, Ellen Whitford, Teresa Winterhalter, Carey Adams (ex officio), John Kraft (ex officio), Robert Gregerson (ex officio), Patricia Wachholz (ex officio), Meagan Stachurski (ex officio), Jahmal McCray (ex officio)

GUESTS: Jill Bell

I. Call to Order. The meeting was called to order at 2:30 p.m. by Dr. Joey Crosby.

II. Approval of Minutes. The minutes of August 15, 2012 were approved as presented.

III. Committee Reports
A. Graduate Curriculum
   Dr. Allison Belzer has a teaching conflict with the meeting time. She will be replaced by Dr. Michael Benjamin.
B. Graduate Faculty Status (see Attachment 1)
   The committee accepted the report of the Graduate Faculty Status Committee.
C. Graduate Student Appeals (no report)

IV. Old Business: Academic dismissal due to low grades and the “two C policy” Discussion from the last meeting was continued.

Points of discussion:
- The Department of History instituted a “two C policy” eighteen years ago. Since that time they have had students who have earned one C, but have never had a student earn a second C.
- Since graduate programs are year-round, a case can be made for counting summer as a semester.
- Some programs have classes that are only offered in summer.
- Since graduate programs can be very different by college, perhaps each college should have its own timeline for reapplying.
- Appeals to reapply early can be made in exceptional cases, but they would require a very quick turn-around. If coordinators are not paid in the summer, the dean or a designee would have to handle appeals made in summer.

- Perhaps the cut-off should be three Cs rather than 2 Cs.

It was moved and seconded that summer be counted as a semester in the “two C policy” probationary process. The motion was approved. Dr. John Kraft will draft new policy language and bring it to the next meeting.

It was asked how many students the current policy affects, and how common the policy is at other institutions. A study was done in 2010 on the policies of other institutions. Ms. Panhorst could not immediately find this in her electronic records, but said she would look further. She did find the following in an attachment to the minutes of October 5, 2010, which states how many students would have been affected if the current policy had be implemented retroactively in Fall 2010:

“Justification for Counting C or below grades beginning in Fall 2010 justification (sic):

Perceived fairness from students:
This is a big change for our students. Students made choices about their grades with a different policy. While the catalog allows us to change administrative policies, the consequences of the new policy are severe and potentially sudden. If we start counting the C or below grades now (Fall 2010), we give them a clean slate, so to speak, when beginning this new policy (excluding students in programs who already implemented a 2 C dismissal policy). It will only allow one more C grade or below in a students graduate career.

Avoiding a juggernaut in the registrar’s office and appeals processing:
There are 118 students in jeopardy of dismissal this semester if we count previous C or below grades as the first C. If they earn a second C or below grade in the Fall 2010 semester, they will be academically withdrawn from Spring 2011 classes and sent letters from the Registrar’s Office that they have been academically dismissed. If they appeal, programs, departments and deans will have to process the appeals before the beginning of classes in order to allow for students to get back into Spring 2011 classes. The Graduate Student Appeals committee will then have to hear all the cases that programs, department, and deans deny in a timely manner.”

V. GSCC
Ms. Meagan Stachurski reported that the first GSCC funding meeting was today.
She also announced that one of their representatives is going to engage in public relations through social media.
There is an ongoing discussion with Dr. Carey Adams regarding options for graduate hooding. The GSCC supports hooding for all graduate students. A separate ceremony the night before commencement is one option under discussion.

The next GSCC meeting is September 18. The next funding meeting is October 2. Those requesting funding are being asked to turn in their requests at least a week before the meeting and at least 60 days before the event for which funding is being requested, in order to allow sufficient time for processing.

VI. John Kraft
Dr. Kraft distributed the draft of the new Graduate Assistant Funding Request Form (see Attachment 2). A box has been added to designate GA positions or at-large. Page 2 has been designed to conform to PeopleAdmin requirements. Please send any feedback within two weeks so the form can be distributed in time for an October 15 submission deadline. The basic procedure for selection will be the same as last year.

VII. Carey Adams
Dr. Adams addressed summer enrollment (see Attachment 3). He said that he and Mr. David Carson are ex officio members of the Senate Planning, Budget, and Facilities committee, along with Dr. Robert Loyd. Dr. Adams reported that Mr. Carson said we will have final financial numbers for summer by the end of October. This will be a better indicator of whether or not we met our target than the enrollment will.

Discussion points:
- Historic relationship between graduate coordinator summer supplements for the next summer and meeting the target for the previous summer.
- Having to earn 1.5 x salary when class sizes are small.
- Differentiated tuition and programs not getting that money back.
- The difficulty of turning in spring and summer schedules together in the fall. It was noted that this is the first time we’ve done this. It had been suggested by a former interim associate vice president of enrollment services, with the rationale being that students going home for winter break are more likely to plan for summer during that time if the schedule is available.
- The difficulty of determining whether, when, and where online classes in the summer will require their students to come to campus. Students must be informed of this when they register, but it is seen as next to impossible to provide this information this far in advance of summer.
VIII. Jill Bell
Ms. Bell reported that the graduate open house will be on March 19. She is working with Ms. Brenda Forbis on materials. We are currently on the wait list for the recruiting fair at Kennesaw State University, but there are other recruiting fairs to be signed up for. The Armstrong Career and Graduate School Fair is on October 25.

Student files over seven years old are being purged. First purged will be those who applied but never enrolled in classes. Transcripts and GRE scores will be kept. A note will be put on the students’ records in Banner.

The PDF application is being updated to reflect new programs. Ms. Bell is still working with CollegeNET on the online version.

IX. Adjournment. The meeting was adjourned at 3:30 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
