Cost-Sharing at Armstrong State University

The University strictly discourages voluntary cost sharing. Note that the Federal government does not permit voluntary cost sharing on proposals to any of its agencies. Armstrong State University will only consider a cost share arrangement in cases where the sponsor’s written guidelines state that cost sharing is required of all applicants. Any instances of cost sharing will have to be approved by the Provost & Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Vice President for Finance. In such cases, cost sharing will generally take the form of waived unrecovered F&A costs, academic year effort, and other institutional or third-party contributions. Funds from Federal grants cannot be used to provide cost share toward other Federal grants. Be sure only to include cost sharing as the University’s contribution toward a project when specifically required to do so by the sponsor.
